Having Difficulties with Your EPL Accounts?
We Have Options!

COVID-19 forced many businesses to shut down and caused millions of layoffs.

In an ideal world, every employee who was affected will be called back to work after the pandemic passes. But what if only some of those employees are called back? How does an employer comply with the Families First Coronavirus Response Act? These questions have created some volatility in the EPL marketplace.

Though carriers are adjusting their rates and appetites, we can still help you find solutions. Give one of our Professional Liability brokers a call to discuss your account and the options we have available.
